

Figure 9. Structural contour map of Roslyn #5 coal seam (Shannon and Wilson, 1977, plate 3) overlain approximately on geology/topography (not to the highest cartographic standards). Note plunging folds associated with Easton Ridge fault, consistent with tectonic transport suggested by fault striations (arrow).

